The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

View of a Thoughtful Reader

This material was written expressly for this column by a friend of newspapers who is also a vigorous foe of those who would put obstacles in the way of your right to know.

Your right to know and freedom of the press are Constitutional rights that has been a superb marriage. It has helped make this nation the great bastion of liberty that it is.

We believe philosophy of this material is reflected in the thinking of most newspaper readers. It is presented here to reinforce their belief not only in the right to know, but also of the responsibility of the press to tell.

Dear Publisher:

I am your reader. For a dime a week I purchase your newspaper.

For the price of that small, hard coin I expect to be kept informed by you of what goes on in my community and the surrounding area. That is a large order, I know. But I expect it from you, Mr. Publisher, and so do your other readers who depend on their newspaper for honest information.

Nothing is more vital to the continued welfare of our community or to the maintaining of our system of government, or to our freedom, than an informed, intelligent and alert public opinion. As your reader, I am part of that public opinion.

The contribution you have been making to maintain all of the things that are dear to all of us is an incalculably valuable one.

Because we together — you as a newspaper publisher and I as a reader of your newspaper—depend on each other and constitute an unyielding bulwark against any possible aggressor from within or without, it seems we should know each other better.

I judge you every week by your product. Occasionally, you hear from me through my letters to the editor, complaining about something, or commenting on things that interest me at the moment. Aside from that, however, we go our respective ways.

Let me tell you something about myself.

I am an average person, with foibles and good points. I have rights guaranteed to me under our Constitution which I treasure. I have privileges which I try never to abuse. I work hard every day to maintain my family, and to be counted in my community as a decent citizen.

I have hopes and aspirations. I look to the future not only for myself, but for my family, community and country.

I own an automobile, and my wife has a washing machine, refrigerator and many other gadgets which make our life at home pleasant and comfortable. My children take dancing lessons. Sundays we enjoy going to the beach or park for a picnic.

I am a member of a political party and do my duty at the polls regularly. I am curious about everything that goes on around me. I want to know.

I am as interested in the price of coffee as in the splitting of the atom, the price of a postage stamp or the measurements of Miss America. And I expect you to tell me, Mr. Publisher.

Here are some things I expect from you:

The very first thing is leadership. I expect you to stand, and not straddle the fence whenever an important issue arises. It is not necessary that you be right. As long as I know that in stating your position you do so from a clear conviction that it is in the public's interest, I will understand, even though I may disagree with you sometime.

I expect you to put the good things that happen in their proper perspective. I also expect you to focus the spotlight on the bad things that occur. But do mix the good with the bad.

I am interested in improving the functions of my government. I want good government. I want good men and women to represent me in our law-making bodies at all levels. Tell me about the supervisors and the legislature. Tell me about the dog catcher in our community and how the sheriff performs his duties — or fails to do so. About the candidates for council and for the school board.

Sometimes you will run into obstacles in reporting the news. Here and there a recalcitrant, misguided elected public official will refuse to give you information about what he is doing or what he plans to do.

Tell me about these incidents and keep harping on them. Perhaps I won't react immediately. You see, I am also a tolerant person and people sometimes get the impression that they can push me around at will.

But once I am really aroused, you will be surprised at the results we — you and I — can achieve. We — you and I — Mr. Publisher, have it within our power to throw the rascals out. We can clean house any time we make up our minds to do so by the simple expedient of the ballot box.

But to do that we need guidance, we need leadership — your leadership. And we need accurate information on which to base our final decisions. I am not afraid to face the facts but I expect you to tell them to me as they develop, and as they are, not as somebody would like to have me believe they might be.

Don't try to protect me. I do not want or need protection which keeps me away from the things I should know. I can take it. I am taking it every day. I would rather be told about the unpleasant things as they occur, than to be confronted suddenly with an obstacle or condition that would take superhuman effort to remove or recitify.

Somebody always wants to educate the people to make them understand certain causes. Don't let your newspaper be used by those people. I prefer to get the news about the causes the groups are interested in, and your editorial comment about how those causes stack up. I'll go it alone from there, uneducated if need be. I want the freedom to make up my own mind.

These then are some of the things I wanted to tell you Mr. Publisher. I hope you don't mind my speaking so frankly and freely. But if you are to make this community a better place to live in for ourselves and our children, we need a body of well-informed people willing to do their share to make and maintain it so, no matter at what sacrifice.

I am doing my share, as I am sure you will continue to do yours.

If we both give the best that is in us, perhaps the world some day will return in kind to us.

— Your Newspaper Reader.

Beneficience Dangerous

"Experience should teach us to be most on guard to protect liberty when the government's purposes are beneficient.

"The greatest dangers to liberty lurk in insidious encroachments by men of zeal, well meaning but without understanding."

Woman Dies In Crash on Massachusetts

A high-speed, single car accident in the 4100 block of Massachusetts ave. killed a San Diego woman late Friday night.

The victim was identified as Terri Gross, 27, of 526 Sears ave. She was dead on arrival at Villa View hospital. The driver of the car, Michael Gross, 27, was in critical condition at the same hospital but was improving this week.

The car was traveling north on Massachusetts at the brow of a hill which drops steeply to University ave. California Highway Patrol reported the rate of speed was such that the car was airborne for 60 feet. The auto went out of control at impact, rolled down a hill and came to rest upside down. It demolished a porch at the home of Franz Schnaubelt, 4137 Massachusetts ave.

The passengers were trapped in the vehicle

3 Meetings on City Issue

The onslaught has started.

Lemon Grove residents may be visited by as many as 23 candidates for council in the coming incorporation election and 10 candidates for the board of the school district election. The election is Tuesday, March 8.

Residents will also be bombarded with information and conversation by those who are heading the incorporation movement.

There will be opportunities to see and hear the candidates in public meetings.

Incorporation meetings have been set for Monday February 7 at Palm Junior High school and Tuesday, March 1 at San Miguel elementary school.

A combined incorporation-school board meeting is tentatively scheduled for the L.G. Junior High school by the League of Women Voters on Wednesday, February 23 at 7:30 p.m.

Incorporation sponsors have set up an information office at 7898 Broadway at Main st. at which voters may get information about incorporation.

This newspaper will run a series of articles on each of the candidates between now and March 3 with all of the candidates invited to come to the office of the newspaper at 7834 Lester ave., in Lemon Grove, for an interview and a photo. An appointment is suggested. Call 469-0101.

Committee Meets

Incorporation steering committee meetings headed by Karen Thomson and John Stenbeck are being held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at 8100 Broadway in the St. John of the Cross Catholic church area.

Funds are being solicited for a mass mailing, according to Dr. Robert Knauer, treasurer of the committee for incorporation. Facts, he said, would be mailed to every registered voter in the proposed city.

Thomson said that volunteers are urgently needed for the office and telephone committees; to walk precincts and to take voters to the polls.

This is the first in the series of candidates:

SEEKS CITY POST — Jack Doherty, 28, a legal affairs specialist with the San Diego Police Department, lives at 2213 Dain ct. in Lemon Grove. He has a Juris Doctorate from USD Law School and a B.A. in Economics from U of California School of Law. He is married. The couple has one child.

He circulated a petition last year which kept a section of land near Mt. Miguel High school in the proposed city's boundaries.

In his job he deals daily with problems of municipal government particularly in the area of public safety services.

"I will use my background in the fields of law and munipal government to work for the betterment of the new city," he said.

"The city's first council must be special. It will have no standing traditions, no established policies, and no municipal code. The new city council needs professionals in order to develop its own character.

"As legal affairs specialist for California's second largest city, I am a professional. I will work to preserve the semi-rural atmosphere of Lemon Grove; to build a financially sound, cost-conscious city government, and and to make the city government open and responsive to the needs of the citizens.

COUNTIE MOUNTIE — Ray W. O'Brien (left) and Mary E. Gillion present a citizen band radio to Deputy Sheriff Doug Henderson for use in the Sheriff's Department's "County Mountie" crime prevention program. The gift from the co-owners of the House of C.B.'ers at 3358 Main st. in Lemon Grove was a token of their citizen involvement in helping prevent crime. The radio unit will be installed in a sheriff's detective car to help communicate with C.B. operators in reporting emergency and criminal activity.

There are no funds in the Sheriff's budget for CB radios but those given to the Department through Henderson, have been repaired if needed, in spare time by the County Radio shop personnel.

Henderson said more than $19,000 in stolen items have been recovered by way of CB'ers in the area reporting possible crimes over CB wavelengths.

S.D. Supervisors to Mull Spending $5.7 Million HUD Funds in County

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing Tuesday at 2 p.m. on the County's community development application for the third program year of the federal block grant program. The hearing will be held in Room 310 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway in San Diego.

The County expects to receive approximately $5.7 million of its entitlement amount from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development under provisions of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

The public hearing will focus on community needs, objectives and activities and on the Housing Assistance Plan for the unincorporated areas of the county including Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, and small cities.

Supervisors are expected to discuss the community development application and a strategy for utilization of the third year block grant funds.

Although many of the cities involved have already held public hearings in their communities, citizens from these areas are invited to attend and comment at the hearing to be held by the Board of Supervisors.

Federal legislation requires that the community development program be directed toward meeting the needs of lower income households.

Programs currently under consideration center around four functional areas: 1) residential rehabilitation loans and/or grants: 2) site acquisition and land banking for new residential construction; 3) public improvements; and 4) program planning and development.

Unplanned Battle Brews In Valle de Oro Area

The battle for Valle de Oro's future make-up is shaping up to be a contest between County officials, the Executive Planning Committee, and independent citizen's groups. It was not planned that way.

Latest stage in the battle happens today. The Executive Committee for the Valle de Oro Planning Program goes before the Environmental Review Board for what Chairman Dave Herring said would be "minor revisions" to their original plan.

But Herring added the Board would decide to go ahead with the proposed construction of Route 54.

Last January 12 a citizen's group, the Citizens for a Rural Environment for the Helix Summit Area, took their case to the Board of Supervisors hoping to ban further construction in the area around Ivy ln. and Helix street.

The Plan states the area will be zoned for an urban type 14 unit housing development on 4.6 acres.

The citizens of that area banded together, hired attorneys, but lost their bid to keep the area from becoming what they call a future of "street light, gutter, and side walk brigades." The Board of Supervisors ruled to go along with the Executive Committee's Plan.

In still another action, the Board of Supervisors read through proposals from the Executive Committee to give the committee more power. The Executive Committee is asking to be an advisory group.

The County Board of Supervisors was also expected to put a halt on all building in the Valle de Oro area pending an investigation of the sewer system.

Card Player Shot to Death

What is said to have been an argument which started in a card game was reported as the basis for the Friday night shooting that killed Jack Ryan Sadler, Jr., 20, a student at S.D. State U. who lived at 3743 Fairway dr., Spring Valley.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Sadler's roommate, George Edward Majchrowicz, 19, an unemployed laborer, and booked him at county jail in connection with the shooting.

The two men were playing cards at a friend's apartment at 3553 Fairway dr. when the shooting occurred about 11:45 p.m. Witness reported that Majchrowicz left the game, armed himself with a rifle and shot Sadler. He offered no resistance when officers arrested him at the scene, investigators said.

PAST MASTER — Leroy B. Maxwell, 56, a retired U.S. Navy Chief and aircraft engineer for the U.S. Civil Service Commission, has tossed his hat into the ring for councilman of the proposed City of Lemon Grove. Maxwell, of 2840 Olive st., Lemon Grove, was a aviation chief machinist mate in in the Navy and served 24 years active duty.

"I was urged to run by friends and neighbors—all homeowners. I want to represent the homeowner if I become councilman. I want to make certain that we have a 'no frills' gov-

CAMP FIRE SALESLADIES — Cammy Brunold, a student at Highlands Elementary school in Spring Valley, and Kathy Fusco, Magnolia Elementary school, El Cajon, both representing the Baymont District, are ready for any eventuality as they join 12,000 other Camp Fire Girls in their annual candy sale January 26-February 14.

Cammy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brunold of 3018 Rockdale ln., Spring Valley, holds a sign which tells of one of the major needs for the candy sale funds.

Kathy holds a tub which further illustrates the need for pool repairs of the Camp Fire Girls pool at Camp Wolahi in the Cuyamaca mountains. At the bottom of the photo are samples of candy to be sold at $1.50 a package in an attempt to raise the $15,000 needed to refurbish Camp Wolahi as well as the pool.

—Five delegates from Vista La Mesa Christian will attend the Ecumenical Conference Annual Assembly January 23 at Christ Lutheran Church, Pacific Beach. The Assembly begins at 7 p.m.

Stalder Appointed

Central Federal Savings and Loan Assn. president Fred C. Stalder has been named to the Advisory Committee to the President of the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco.

The Committee, comprised of past bank directors, meets twice annually with the regional institution's board of directors and twice each year with bank management.

Stalder was a member of the bank's board of directors 1967-1972.

The Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco serves member savings and loan associations in California, Arizona and Nevada.

Torrey Pines Help

Volunteers are sought to join the Torrey Pines Docent Society to assist in public programs at Torrey Pines State Reserve. People interested in donating their time will receive training about the Reserve's plants, animals, birds and geology.

Training sessions will be held Saturdays 9 a.m. starting February 26. The Ranger to call is Paul Anderson at 755-2063.

Choir Will Sing At Civic Theatre

The St. Olaf Choir of Northfield, Minnesota will sing a concert of sacred music at the Civic Theatre Sunday, February 13 at 8 p.m.

The 65-voice choir is world renown for its cappella abilities and is made up of students from St. Olaf College, a small coed liberal arts school of about 2,800 students.

The choir, under the direction of Kenneth Jennings, has performed in Vienna, Rome, and in 1972 at the International Strasbourg Music Festival in France.

The group has made annual tours since 1912 and has had rave reviews from the NEW YORK TIMES, NEW YORK POST, CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, DERNIERS NOUVELLES D'ALSACE (France), and LE PROGRES of Lyon, France.

Miguel Speech Team In Fullerton Contest

Selected members of Mount Miguel's Speech team will participate in the S. Cal. competition at Cal State Fullerton January 28 and 29.

Topics will be abortion, clowns, and fast food restaurants. Members of the team will be competing in other contests during the semester.

Baby Has DMV Card

SACRAMENTO — Cameron Stevens put his mark (X) on official Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) documents and became the youngest person in the department's history to receive a California State Identification card.

Cameron is three months old.

Escorted to the department's West Covina office by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laing A. Stevens, of Glendora, the infant became one of the 850,000-non-driver ID recipients since legislation became effective last January lowering the minimum age requirement.

The new law rescinds the minimum age requirement to 16 years. According to the department's Director, Herman Sillas, the department favors the new legislation because no other form of recognized identification was previously available to persons under 16 years old.

Also included in the new law are identification cards for senior citizens.

Anyone over the age of 62 years may apply for an ID card similar to Cameron's. The cards cost $3, are valid for ten years, and are stamped "senior citizen" on the front.

The state has issued some 13,400 senior citizens cards.

To apply for a California ID applicants must provide a birth certificate, naturalization papers, or other reliable identification showing complete birthdate.

Non-driver identification like infant Steven's cost $3.25 and are valid for six years.

As for young Cameron's vitals: red hair, blue eyes, height: one foot ten inches, weight: 12 pounds, birthdate: 10-11-76.

Talk on Faith Healing Tonight At Hospital

Grossmont Community College Dirtict's Office of Community Education, the Grossmont Hospital medical staff and the Hospital Auxiliary will present George R. Simms, M.D., Ph.D., in a program titled "Holistic Medicine: Healing the Whole Person" at 7:30 p.m. tonight, January 20, in the Grossmont Hospital Auditorium.

Dr. Simms will provide a new dimension to his topic with his background as a practicing physician, a medical missionary and an ordained minister. He recently completed his dissertation in the field of holistic medicine for his doctorate in human behavior at the United States International University.

Engaged in private practice in La Mesa, Dr. Simms specializes in family practice. He is a member of the American Medical Association, American Academy of Family Practice and the American Association of Marriage and Family Counselors.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Simms discuss holistic medicine from a new viewpoint. There is no charge for admission.

Christian Heritage Grows A $500,000 Ed. Building

A half-million dollar building project is being launched by Christian Heritage College for a new educational and research building to be erected on campus, 2100 Greenfield, El Cajon, according to Albert S. Prentice, vice-president of development.

Prentice said the target date for completion is set for August, 1977.

Prentice will direct the fund-raising campaign for the college's new building.

The new facility will house six classrooms and lecture halls, a print shop, faculty and administration offices and the ICR Research Division and New Heritage Research Museum.

The ICR Research Division is an important component of the college. The Institute for Creation Research has the specific function of promoting research, writing and education in the field of scientific Biblical creationism. World wide attention is focused on the college through Dr. Henry Morris, ICR director, and Dr. Duane Gish, associate director, through their well-publicized debates on university campuses.

The public has been invited to share in the expansion of the college. Contributions may be sent to the Educational and Research Building, CHC, 2100 Greenfield dr., El Cajon, 92021.

New Survey Shows Reductions In San Diego Milk Prices

Spot Checks of milk prices in major San Diego food stores shows a price drop since the California Department of Agriculture lifted minimum pricing.

Surveys made by the California Public Interest Research Group (CALPIRG) during January 8, 9, and 10 showed the average drop in a half-gallon of whole milk to be about three cents.

Miles Frieden, CALPIRG's co-director, said the reduction was an important victory for consumer groups. Frieden said groups have been battling to decontrol the retail price of milk for nearly three yars.

CALPIRG surveyed 30 food stores within San Diego and found the lowest price for a gallon of whole milk was $1.30 at FedMart. The highest price found by the research group was $1.36 at Mayfair.

Before the January 6 lifting of price minimums average whole milk prices were $1.40.

Low fat milk was selling prior to January 6 at $1.38 a gallon. The studies show FedMart had the lowest price again, $1.28, while Mayfair had the highest at $1.34.

The price for a half-gallon of non-fat milk was selling before the price reduction at 59 cents. Now, FedMart sells it for 55 cents, the lowest, and Mayfair for 59 cents, the highest.

Frieden said his group wanted to check the prices quickly and surveyed only inner San Diego food stores.

"We have gotten a lot of calls on this from people outside the city of San Diego who tell us the prices haven't gone down," said Frieden.

He added CALPIRG plans to reconduct research in outer areas in a later study.

Last Tango In Southern California For Count Basie And Band Is Sunday

One of the final performances for Count Basie and his orchestra in Southern California will be in the Southwestern College Gymnasium January 23 at 8 p.m.

Basie will retire after this tour.

The Count Basie Orchestra has been labeled as "the most explosive force in jazz" and has been requested as a recording orchestra for such artists as Frank Sinatra, Tony Bennett, Ella Fitzgerald, and Fred Astaire.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at the Student Activities Office, 600 Building, on campus; at Albert's Music City; Harper's Music Store in Chula Vista; all Ozzie's Music Stores; or at the gym boxoffice the night of the concert.

This Week's RECIPE

String Beans With Buttermilk

A major ingredient of String Beans and Buttermilk is the herb, basil, one of the most widely used in Mediterranean cooking.

In rural Italy the herb is often called "kiss me, Nicholas" from centuries-old folklore. According to Italian legend, basil worn behind the ear insured successful courtship.

During the gayer moments of 17th Century England, basil was added to bouquets to guarantee "a cheerfull and merrie hearte". This week it cheers up string beans in a low-calorie dish.

STRING BEANS WITH BUTTERMILK

1½ cups buttermilk
½ teaspoon basil
½ teaspoon dehydrated parsley flakes
½ teaspoon dried mint
Freshly chopped coriander leaves (optional)
⅛-¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
3 garlic cloves, minced
salt to taste

Cook string beans in lightly salted boiling water until tender crisp. Drain and cool, then press out excess liquid. Place in one quart serving dish. Beat buttermilk until light and frothy. Add remaining ingredients. Pour over string beans. Stir gently to combine. Let stand in refrigerator two hours or overnight. Serve cold.

Makes four servings.

Women Wanted For 3 Pageants

Who says it's not a woman's world?

Take a look at these contests — all for women only.

The Miss San Diego Pageant will be at the House of Hospitality, Balboa Park at 7 p.m. on March 6. It is for women, 18 to 26 who have or will have received diplomas by September 1, 1977. Application deadline is February 2 at 5 p.m.

Vitamin C Overdoses Are Bad Says Doc

A New York doctor has rebounded on the current fashion to take massive doses of vitamin C.

Dr. Victor Herbert, vice chairman of medicine at State University of New York, Downstate Medical Center, said massive doses of the vitamin taken by women during pregnancy may cause deficiencies in their babies.

Herbert said the body's mechanism for restroying vitamin C sharply speeds up when a person takes "megadoses of the vitamin." The speeded machinery continues to function at high speeds when the person return to normal doses.

This, according to the Doctor, can cause temporary cases of scurvy in newborn babies.

Herbert said Americans are undergoing a nutritional overkill relying on large doses of vitamins in the belief this will prevent or cure diseases.

Another negative effect of vitamin C overdoses is the destruction of substantial amounts of vitamin B-12. B-12 is essential to the health of the nervous system.

Earth Apples

Germans frequently refer to potatoes as "apples of the earth."

Pollution Policy Adopted By Lemon Grove School Board

During a stage one alert where air quality consists of .20 pollutants per million (PPM) the Board has adopted:

—curtailment of all outdoor physical activities for students. Activities of a less strenuous nature should be substituted.

—any students with notes from parents or doctors must be allowed to remain inside.

—athletic events shall be cancelled if the morning Air Pollution Control report forecasts smog conditions covering the period of the event. The events may be rescheduled to start at the end of the alert.

—practice sessions for athletic teams, bands, and other organizations shall be restricted.

Stage one alerts occur three to five times per year.

Friars' Best Picks Are Hometown Netters

There was a decided local flavor to the Friars' selections in the recent World Team Tennis draft.

After choosing Australians Wendy Turnbull and Cynthia Doerner, both of whom figure to bolster the women's side of the team roster, the Friars picked four area residents and a fifth who spent his youth here.

Chico Hagey, Brian Teacher, Walter Redondo, Karen Susman and Raul Ramirez were drafted by San Diego. Hagey, Teacher and Susman are La Jolla natives, Redondo is from National City and Ramirez, the 1976 Grand Prix winner, grew up in La Jolla.

"I believe we had an excellent draft," general manager Allan Kingston said. "We were first looking for help in women's doubles and possibly women's singles. I think we accomplished what we had to."

Turnbull, 24, is an excellent doubles player and is rated one of the quickest on-court players in the sport. She was a standout in the WTT two years ago with Boston and competed in Europe last summer. Doerner also has WTT experience as a member of the Houston team three years ago.

Hagey played four mixed doubles matches for the Friars last season, achieving a 3-1 record. The Friars also drafted Rayni Fox, who played regularly for Cleveland.

Kingston, who has announced one player signing so far — Rod Laver — said that negotiations are nearly consummated with several players on the team's protected list. They include player-coach Cliff Drysdale, Dick Stockton, Peter Fleming, Terry Holladay, Linky Bishoff and Sue Barker.

"Our men last year allowed the team to be competitive and with the addition of several of the women presently on our roster, the Friars will have players who can bring a championship to San Diego," Kingston said.

Del Mar Racing To Pay For Fair, Race Facilities

Expansion of the main entrance to the grandstand, currently underway at the fair grounds in Del Mar will provide additional display space for the home arts department and junior exhibitors.

Improvements include the installation of new kitchens, equipment, and renovation of the Surf Room used by the S.D. Exposition for the International Salon of Photography.

Total cost will be $1,040,000. These funds will come from net profits derived from thoroughbred racing at Del Mar. Ultimately $8 million will be invested in improvements.

An open air patio on the second level of the grandstand, similar to one installed several years ago at the clubhouse entrance, will provide some of the additional space for the Expo.

Two escalators will carry grandstand users to the second level. The main floor will have a terrazo covering; the upper level will be carpeted.

Walls of the Surf Room will be paneled and new carpeting will be installed. Useable space will be nearly doubled.

R. J. O'Conner, director of administration for the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club, said the contractor has until June 1 to finish so facilities will be ready for the 88th annual S. Cal. Exposition, June 21 through July 4.

Gross Back on KSDO

Jerry Gross, controversial sportscaster, is back on radio KSDO. Controversy stems from his comments on sports franchises and franchise owners and managers.

His show will be on the air 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday with a talk-show format. Guests will field questions from the listening audience.

He has had shows on KFMB-TV, KDEO and KSON.

Circle R Resort Golf Tournament To Draw Tourists

Circle R Resort in Moosa Canyon, will be the scene of Snowbird Classic II Monday, February 7. It will be the second annual tournament in honor of winter golf visitors who annually vacation here to seek the warm setting of golf courses in North San Diego County. The tournament is open to the public.

The resort will sponsor the 18-hole tournament for men and women and hold a cocktail party golf award ceremony, and buffet dinner following the match.

Prizes will be awarded for low gross and low net for men and women. A closest to the pin contest will be held on the 12th hole — a 159 yard par 3. Also scheduled is a putting contest, a sand trap shot, a driving contest and the crowning of a Classic II putting champ. A shotgun start at 11 a.m. is scheduled.

Tournament players and guests will be feted at the awards ceremony and cocktail party preceding the dinner. Fees of $18.50 a person includes green fees, electric cart, two cocktails and a roast beef buffet dinner in the Circle R Resort lounge-dining room overlooking scenic Moosa Canyon.

Reservations may be obtained by calling 749-2877.

Groupie Baseball Best Bargain Says Padres Executive

Not only do the San Diego Padres offer the most attractive season ticket plans in all of major league baseball, but the Padres also extend to the fans some of the best group sales programs anywhere, according to Mike Ryan, Padres Executive.

As in the past, the Padres will offer special price reduction on large orders for plaza and loge level seating. The plaza seats usually sell for $3.75, but the following savings will be in effect for all home games except opening day, closing day and special promotion nights: 40 or more — $3.50, 100 or more — $3.25 and 500 or more — $3. As for the loge seats, the same restrictions apply with the following breaks on the normal price of $3.25: 40 or more — $3.05, 100 or more — $2.85 and 500 or more — $2.65.

The Padres will also again offer the four private club areas: Batter's Box (60 capacity), Triple Play (150), Bullpen (50) and Grand Slam (260). All four areas are on the Press level and the package price of $11 a person includes the game ticket plus cold cuts, chili, salad, cocktails, beer, soft drinks and coffee. Please note that no minors are allowed in these club areas. A $25 non-refundable deposit is required.

S.V. Bobby Sox Sign-Up Time Here

It's sign-up time for Bobby Sox play in Spring Valley.

Girls ages 8 through 15 are eligible to join local teams.

A registration fee is required. The $7 fee includes the cost of the uniform and insurance.

The event will be played February 4 at Whispering Palms Country Club in Rancho Santa Fe. There is no spectator admission charge.

Other players already entered include Joe Ferguson (St. Louis), Ed Herrmann (Houston), Jamie Quirk (Kansas City), Clay Kirby (Padres), John D'Acquisto (Giants), Steve Yeager (Dodgers) and Johnny Grubb (Cleveland).

NBC announcer Charlie Jones, National League umpire Doug Harvey, and coaches Del Rice (Angels), Bob Winkles (Giants) and Bob Miller (Toronto) also are entered.

More than forty sports celebrities will participate in the one-day event that starts at nine o'clock.

Big Names Surface as AWSDO Nears

Tee off in the Celebrity Pro-Am next Wednesday heralds the opening of one of San Diego County's major sports events of the year, the Tenth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament.

The four-day $180,000 Open follows on January 27-30 with J. C. Snead defending the championship he has won two years in a row.

Challenging him will be a field including most of the top 60 in the nation, many of whom will not enter until this week.

In the fold already are U. S. Open champ Jerry Pate, Masters titlist Ray Floyd, and six more of the top 12 in 1976 earnings: Ben Crenshaw, second; Hubert Green, fourth; David Graham, eighth; Don January, ninth; Mark Hayes, 11th; and Tom Watson, 12th.

Besides Snead, former AWSDO and San Diego Open champs entered include Bobby Nichols, Bob Dickson, George Archer, Peter Brown, Bob Goalby, Billy Casper and Gene Littler.

The Celebrity Pro-Am will feature such show biz names as Telly Savalas, Efrem Zimbalist, Don Knotts, Glen Campbell, Robert Stack, Jack LaLanne, Charley Pride, Fred MacMurray, Jack Albertson, Tige Andrews, Robert Sterling, McLean Stevenson, Martin Milner, Claude Akins, Trini Lopez, Rick Hurst and Jack Carter.

Famous names from the sports world who will compete in the Pro-Am include baseball's most valuable player Joe Morgan, football's George Blanda, John Hadl and Tom Harmon and racing's Parnelli Jones.

Advance sale tickets will be on sale at reduced prices at some 265 retail outlets, business institutions, golf courses and military bases in San Diego County through January 25.

Trotters Scouting Is Traveling Chore

SAN DIEGO — Local basketball fans will see the results of the Harlem Globetrotters' sophisticated scouting system when the team comes to the Sports Arena January 28 for an 8 p.m. tilt with the New Jersey Reds.

Entering their fifty-first year of competition this month, the Trotters have won .974 of some 13,000 games played and have appeared before more people than any sports team in history.

Forty years ago the Globetrotters recognized the problem of signing good players and began utilizing the first full-time scouts in professional basketball. Today, the scouting system is headed by former pro basketball coach Phil Brownstein.

Brownstein travels over 100,000 miles each year to watch the nation's top stars. At the end of the college season, he invites the players best suited for the Globetrotter game to a special rookie training camp.

Of the thousands of players observed each year by Trotter scouts, only one or two are lucky enough to join the squad.

The job of scouting was easy in the case of a young player from North Carolina who wrote the Trotters requesting a tryout. He turned out to be pretty good — his name was Meadowlark Lemon.

In addition to the on-court antics of Lemon and his fellow Trotters, fans will witness an all-star variety show including professional table tennis players Robert Ashley and Greg Plakos.

The Globetrotters appearance is sponsored by the San Diego chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi. Net proceeds will go toward support of the fraternity's college scholarship fund.

Animal Fight Laws Tightened by Congress

A new federal law banning fights between two or more animals for the "purpose of sport, wagering or entertainment" took effect in July.

Althought most states already have laws against dog or cockfights, Congress felt the need for a stiff federal law with tough prison sentences or fines for violators.

Goalie, Golfer Win HoC "Star' Citations

For outstanding performances in two divergent sports fields, Ernie Wakely, San Diego Mariner goalie, and golfer Marianne Bretton have been chosen as Stars of the Month for December by the Hall of Champions Breitbard Athletic Awards Committee.

The Mariner net tender excelled among the professional nominees on the basis of his showing during a streak when the team won six out of eight matches, largely due to his defensive play. He shut out Edmonton for his third whitewash of the season and the 14th of his WHA career, equalling a circuit record.

Miss Bretton, a member of the UCLA women's golf team, captured the California State Amateur Women's championship at Pebble Beach, overcoming some of the country's finest players. As a student at Patrick Henry High in 1974 she had been voted Junior Girl Golfer of the Year.

Two other pros were voted Certificates of Achievement, Mariner right winger Norm Ferguson for contributing 24 goals and 11 assists in December, and El Cajon's Alvin Lou, who bowled an 814 series with games of 278-279-257, just short of the existing county record.

Similar awards went to a pair of amateurs, Scott Simpson, USC golf captain, who added the All-American and Collegiate Invitational title to his NCAA crown, and Barbara Weigandt for taking her sixth straight women's singles championship in the USTA National Hardcourt tournament.

Cosell's Day to Draw College All-Americans

PALM SPRINGS — The seventh annual Howard Cosell's Day With The All-Americans Golf Tournament will be played Tuesday, February 8, at Canyon Country Club, announced general chairman William Fugazy.

The controversial Cosell, who has hosted the last three tournaments, is really up for this one. "With my baseball broadcasting career brought abruptly to a halt, I am back to one of my favorite sports, golf, and one of my really favorite tournaments — the Day With The All-Americans.

"On hand will be the former collegiate All-Americans who are now the nation's top professionals, plus many of the star athletes and celebrities."

Entry fee is a tax deductible $1,000. Proceeds benefit the All-American Collegiate Golf Foundation Scholarship Program, which has already provided scholarships for 34 young bright men who otherwise could not have attended college.

There are four such scholarships, the Tony Lema, Frank Sinatra, Gary Sanders and Jackie Robinson, for black youngsters.

Entry forms may be obtained by telephoning Helen Nicolaidis at (714) 325-5531 or Jack Quigley and Jack Koennecker at the Canyon Country Club, (714) 327-1321.

Biletnikoff, Villapiano Dress For American Airline Golf Classic

PHOENIX — Wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff of the champion Oakland Raiders, who received the MVP award in the Super Bowl game, and teammate and star linebacker Phil Villapiano will compete in the 11th annual American Airlines Golf Classic, announced tournament chairman Randall Malin.

They will be joined by middle linebacker Jeff Siemon, the defensive star of the Minnesota Vikings, in the 54-hole, football-baseball, partner better ball tournament January 28-30 at McCormick Ranch Country Club near Scottsdale.

Biletnikoff, who rarely drops a pass, has let three championships slip away. He finished fourth last year with Steve Hargan, sixth with Reggie Jackson in 1975 and sixth with Willie Davis in 1972.

Siemon, former Stanford All-American who made 15 solo tackles in the Super Bowl game, finished third last year with Bobby Murcer.

First prize in the $30,000 tournament is $10,000 which the partners split.

Daily ticket prices are $3 for adults and $1 for children. Proceeds go to the Boy Scout Clubs of Scottsdale.

Mac Wilkins Signs Up For JiB' Indoor Games

Olympic discus champion Mac Wilkins has sent in his entry for the annual Jack in the Box Indoor Games, set Friday night, February 18, at the San Diego Sports Arena.

Wilkins was one of the more controversial people at the Montreal Games last summer. Many of the press severely criticized his comments following his impressive victory at the Games.

Wilkins rapped the U. S. Olympic Committee, said he won for himself, and in spite of the obstacles placed before him by the ruling people of track.

Mac is off to a big start indoors, having defeated world record holder Alexsandr Barishikov of Russia and former world record holders Terry Albritton and Al Feuerbach at the Sunkist meet.

Wilkins is the world record holder in the discus, and also was a fine javelin thrower in his collegiate days at Oregon. He stands 6-4, weighs 245 and is one of the more articulate and candid athletes in the country.

Loot is Toboggans

Two toboggans valued at $70 were taken from the mobile-home occupied by Russell E. Thayer at 10767 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley. The burglar cut a screen to get to the devices. The loss occurred last weekend while there was still snow on the ground in the backcountry.

Bowling to Aid Retarded Groups

The S.D. County Assn. for the Retarded will sponsor a County Bowling Tournament for the Retarded to be held on Friday, January 28, at University Lanes, 5933 University ave.

The tournament runs 9:45 a.m.-2 p.m.

More than 500 bowlers are registered for the tournament. They come from all over the county, from public school classes, the four Centers operated by the Assn. for the Retarded, Home of Guiding Hands, private schools, and boarding and foster homes.

Approximately 75 volunteers will work with the tournament, most of whom are the Women's 200 Club of University Lanes.

The Bowling Banquet and Awards Ceremony will be held at the Al Bahr Temple, 5440 Kearny Mesa rd. on Saturday, January 29th at 6 p.m. A dance will follow.

Winners from this tournament will compete in the District X Bowling Tournament at Orange on March 5th. San Diego will host the California Assn. for the Retarded's State Bowling Tournament on May 7th, also at University Lanes.

State-San Jose Game on Teevee

The San Diego State-San Jose State basketball game slated for Saturday will be aired live on KPBS-TV, Channel 15, beginning with a pre-game show at 7:45 p.m.

Mike Meagher and Ken Kramer will call the play-by-play on this PCAA conference game.

Preceding the game, Channel 15 will carry a special program on Aztec sports starting at 7 p.m. The special will include features on men's and women's track and field, baseball, women's basketball and gymnastics.

'Cocktail' Tossed in S.V.

A Molotov cocktail was thrown onto the premises of Andrew John Pommer at 9061 Lamar st., Spring Valley, he told sheriff's officers.

Police recovered a bottle filled with flammable liquid with a canvas wick against his house. It had scorched the glass of a sliding door but did no other damage, reports indicate.

Pommer named a suspect.

Webco Bike Taken

A 20-inch Wecbo bicycle valued at $100 was taken from the garage of the residence of Sherley Mae Johnson at 524 Hotz st. in Spring Valley. She was away when it was taken.

Keglers' Tourney To Aid Heart Fund

S.D. Bowling Proprietor's Assn. will sponsor its third "Bowl for Hearts Tournament" at the Town & Country Lanes in National City, February 6, 13, 20 and 27.

Proceeds will go to the S.D. County Heart Assn.'s Heart Fund. The tournament will start with a celebrity kick-off February 6 and prizes will be awarded to winners. Entry fee is $6 and all bowlers are invited.

Toreros Break Losing Streak

For five games and thirty-six days (which seems longer) the U. of San Diego basketball team failed to win a game. People in San Diego have been wondering what had happened to the previously dominating Toreros in places like Santa Clara, Hayward, Los Angeles, and Phoenix. They must still be curious, as the same club that reeled off eight straight wins to open the season returned to San Diego Monday night and responded by taking a 79-69 decision over the U. of Northern Colorado.

This was the Toreros only home game this month and Jim Brovelli's squad made the most of it. USD scored first and never looked back. UNC tied the game only once at 23-23, but then USD scored the next five points and its lead never less than 3 the remainder of the contest.

The traveling Toreros (0-5) return to the road for its next four games. Next stop is at UC Irvine (6-9) on Saturday, January 22, at 8 p.m. in Crawford Hall on the UCI campus. USD will return to San Diego for a day prior to flying to Hawaii for three games on Monday. In Hawaii USD opens against Chaminade College Tuesday, then plays back to back games against the University of Hawaii on Friday and Saturday, January 28-29. The Toreros will finally return to the mainland and host the University of Hawaii on February 5.

System Change Urges Welfare Aid 'Proof'

Senator John Stull (R-38th District) has introduced legislation which will prevent the use of voter registration as "proof" of United States citizenship for the purpose of receiving public assistance.

Stull said the problem was brought to his attention by officials in Riverside County and the City of Indio.

"In view of the fact that one cannot be required to produce proof of U. S. Citizenship when registering to vote, it makes no sense at all to then use voter registration as an indication of citizenship when applying for welfare.

"This is been happening, at an unestimated cost to the taxpayers, and it is vaguely reminiscent of Catch 22.

"Hopefully, this legislation will resolve the conflict."

Environmentalists Report On Two Housing Projects

The County of San Diego has received a draft environmental impact report (EIR) for the Cottonwood Hills and Cottonwood Lake Village Project in the east county. It studies the impact of 2,022 dwelling units on 613 acres located south of Hillsdale rd., north and west of Willow Glen rd.

The draft EIR for the Cottonwood Hills and Cottonwood Lake Vllage project is available for review at the Casa de Oro Library, 1628 Campo rd.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Charlene Simpson leads a full, rich rewarding life. She teaches kindergarten, plays a fair hand of bridge, enjoys theatre and maintains a warm, friendly home for her husband Joe and sons Scott and David.

One thing Charlene does not do is play golf. "Me? Attack the grass with one of those funny clubs? Not me."

And that's funny, because Joe plays. He's either the winner or runner up in any given city or county amateur tournament

Dave plays. He's one the USC golf team, where they play a pretty fair brand of golf. He's not playing as well as he'd like, but then who does?

Well, his older brother Scott might be the exception. At least on occasion. Like last spring. Scott took the measure of the best collegiate golfers in the nation and won the NCAA Golf Championship.

Then, about one month later, he took a hot putter over cold greens at Niagara Falls and walked away with the Porter Cup, one of the major Amateur titles of the USGA circuit.

Scott is a senior at USC and could repeat as NCAA champ. A "B-plus" student, he figures to repeat as an All-American selection and stands as the man to beat for the NCAA crown.

But before all that comes to pass, Scott and Dave and the entire USC golf team will journey to Japan for a series of Collegiate clashes in the land of the Rising Sun.

It seems USC's great golf coach Stan Wood is always breaking new ground in scheduling tournaments for his players. This year it's the Far East. In the past his players have enjoyed the courtesy and custom of courses in Europe and South America. To play golf at USC is to get an education.

"Those boys have traveled more and seen more than I'll ever see," measured Joe. "And I was in the U.S. Marines as a young man."

"The boys started playing junior golf 'way back," said Charlene. "I think Scott was nine and Dave was eight. There's no better program. Not anywhere. The boys learned to play the game, but they also learned respect for the rules of conduct required by the game. Junior golf is certainly a springboard to manhood and gentlemanly behavior."

They learned their lessons well. Scott will be in full view, playing with the pros in the Andy Williams-San Diego Open. In fact, he's the guy that keeps the title honest. He's the only amateur in it.

Hal Tebbetts, general chairman of the AWSDO and a man of considerable judgment, exercised his option and granted an exemption to Scott. That's the only way an amateur gets to play these days.

Golf Commissioner Deane Beman, in his infinite wisdom and apparent infallibility, last year closed the door on amateurs qualifying for PGA controlled events.

Oh, there will be the usual bunch of Hollywood stars and visitin' businessmen playing in the AWSDO Pr Am, but when things get serious on Tournament Thursday, only Scott Simpson will be totin' Simon Pure colors on the fairways at Torrey Pines.

An amateur won the San Diego event. Back in the days of saddle-shoes and flat-top haircuts Gene Littler fired a 274 over Rancho Santa Fe to whip pro Dutch Harrison by four strokes. Gene earned a trophy, Harrison took top money, then a healthy $2,400.

Top prize is now a whoppin' $36,000 which goes to show what inflation has done to golf. And top money could go to second place if Scott plays his game over a course he knows well.

In any event, Charlene is going to break one of her own rules this year. She's going to walk the course.

"Even though I hate to see grown men cry, I'll be out there," she said. "Joe and I will follow Scott. Dave will caddy."

You'll be able to spot Ma and Pa Simpson out there in Scott's Gallery. They'll be the handsome couple with the four yards of "proud parent" smile and their fingers crossed.

Go on up and say hello. They're real nice folks.

Fellow Athletes Fete Don Clarkson Tonight

Surrounded by a capacity turnout of former fellow-athletes, coaches, officials, educators and civic leaders, Don Clarkson will be honored for his many years as a county sports figure at a dinner tonight at 7:30 in the Stadium Club at San Diego Stadium.

Clarkson recently retired as CIF Commissioner for the San Diego Section after a 40-year career as a coach, teacher and administrator in the school system here. During that period he also was prominent as a basketball and football official and was elected to membership on the National Rules Committees governing both sports.

Adding lustre to the occasion will be the presence of famed entertainer and TV personality Art Linkletter, a teammate of Clarkson's on the 1934 San Diego State championship basketball squad, who is scheduled to participate in the program. Others from that title-winning team attending include John D. Butler, former mayor of San Diego; Municipal Court Judge Frank Nottbusch, Clinton Moss and Walter Bostrom.

An out-of-town delegation is headed by William W. "Bill" Russell of Santa Barbara, California State CIF Commissioner, and also on hand to pay tribute to Clarkson for his contributions to athletics in the San Diego area will be representatives of various organizations in which he has been active.

Preceding the dinner will be a no-host cocktail party commencing at 6:30 p.m.

Wrestling Titles At Stake Tuesday

Two championship bouts spice up the Tuesday night professional wrestling matches at the San Diego Coliseum.

In an American championship tag team match, Roddy Piper and The Hangman put their collective belts on the line with Victor Rivera and Cien Caras, the challengers.

The Worlds Light-heavyweight championship is at stake in the second title bout with Chavo Guererro challenging Champion Alfonso Dante.

The weight limit is 210 pounds which promises quickness of movement. So fast are the two that two referees will officiate to prevent illegal blindside holds.

The first of five bouts gets under way at 7:30. Special rates are given juniors and seniors.

Saints Collapse Tosses Mariners Extra Game Sat.

The San Diego Mariners will start the second half of the 1976-77 World Hockey Association season with three crucial games this week.

The Edmonton Oilers make their final appearance of the regular season on Sports Arena ice tonight.

The Houston Aeros battle the Mariners in San Diego on Saturday and the two teams travel to Texas for a Sunday evening encounter.

The Saturday night home game with the Aeros is a change from the regular schedule as a result of the current problems in Minnesota. The Fighting Saints were to be the opposition but with the suspension of the franchise last week, the Aeros have been inserted into the Saturday night date and will battle the Mariners at the Sports Arena. Saturday is also 25 cents Beer night.

Tickets for all Mariner home games are available at the Mariners ticket office at the Arena, Bill Gamble's Mens Stores and all Select-a-Seat locations.

San Diego snapped a 4-game losing streak Sunday evening with a 5-2 victory over the Birmingham Bulls. The Bulls, making their first San Diego appearance of the season fell behind 5-0 and never threatened as the Mariners recorded a much needed win. Andre Lacroix, Kevin Devine, John French, Wayne Rivers and Don Burgess scored for the locals and Ken Lockett recorded the victory in the nets.

The win enabled the Mariners to maintain a 3-point lead over the second place Houston Aeros in the WHA Western Division and 5-points over the Winnipeg Jets.

Faceoff for both home games, Thursday and Saturday at the Arena is 7 p.m.

College Women's Golf Tourney To Spice Play at Singing Hills

S.D. State U. women's golf team hosts the first Lady Aztec-Singing Hills Invitational tonight and Friday at Singing Hills Country Club. The 36 hole tourney will teeoff at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, and final round action begins Friday at 8:30 a.m. The teams will play 18 holes each day.

"This may be one of the finest women's collegiate tournaments in the nation," says Aztec golf coach Mary Cave. "We have 12 teams and over 50 individuals entered, and this event will showcase some of the finest women's amateur talent in the country."

In addition to the host Aztecs, the tourney includes: Arizona, Arizona State, BYU, Stanford, Kansas, Tulsa, Los Angeles State, Northridge State, Long Beach State, Hawaii and UC San Diego.

"When you look at the caliber of players coming in you realize just how good this tournament will be," notes Cave. "Holly Hartley of Tulsa, is one of the hottest, brightest amateurs in the world and she will lead a fine Tulsa team into this event. Some other one-handicappers are Alice Miller of Arizona State, Dana Benson of Tulsa and Brenda Rego and Becky Pearson of Hawaii."

The tournament will serve as a qualifying round for the AIAW Nationals and competition will be in three areas; individual, two-player and four-player.

"As far as our team is concerned, we will be going into this tourney with a few question marks," says Cave. "Our top player, All-America candidate Barbara Barrow, has previous commitments in Florida, and our number two player, Barbara Moxness, has dropped out of school due to personal reasons. So I am going to be looking at a number of players this weekend."

Credit Card Problem

A free copy of a fact sheet on handling credit card problems can be obtained from the S.D. Community Relations Department at 239-9341.

The sheet includes information on dealing with incorrect billings, purchases of defective merchandise and purchases made with stolen cards.

Bar Stop Costly

Manuel Vargas Orozco stopped at the Inn Spot bar 8290 Broadway about 10 a.m. January 4, leaving his jeep in the parking area.

When he returned, the radio antenna was bent and the plastic windows of his vehicle punctured and ripped.

Muniz-Palomino Scrap on Big TV At SD Coliseum

Fight fans who have been waiting to see Carlos Palomino defend his world title against Armando Muniz will get their chance Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Coliseum, 15th and E sts., San Diego.

The scrap will be on closed circuit television, live from the Olympic in Los Angeles. Each fighter is expected to weigh in somewhere near the maximum 147 pounds for the 15-rounder.

The Coliseum seats about 3,000 for big screen television. All seats are $7.50

A companion fight, also welterweight, is a 10-round fight with Pete Ranzani of Sacramento going against Abel Cordoba of Mexico City.

Coliseum operator Danny Millsap says other bouts may be added in order to provide two hours of fighting — if either of the two listed ones end quickly.

Seats are not reserved but tickets can be assured by calling the Coliseum boxoffice at 233-4664.

YMCA Open House Sunday

An Open House week will be held at the YMCA, 8881 Dallas ave., La Mesa, starting Sunday.

The event is sponsored by the 10 YMCA's, 4 camps, 3 extensions and the Human Development Dept. of the YMCA.

Second in Series

More Than Scars, Bruises Signal Parental Cruelty Toward Child

This is the second of an eight-part series of articles on the problem of the abused and neglected child, based on "Child Abuse," a pamphlet recently published by the office of State Attorney General Evelle J. Younger.

Just as physical injuries can scar and incapacitate a child, emotional cruelty can similarly cripple and handicap a child emotionally, behaviorally and intellectually.

Severe psychological disorders such as psychoses, schizophrenias and vetetative disorders have been traced to excessively distorted parental attitudes and behavior coupled with genetic pre-disposition for psychosis.

Less serious emotional and behavioral problems are very common among children whose parents abuse them emotionally.

Excessive verbal assaults (belittling, blaming, sarcasm), unpredictable responses (inconsistency), continual negative moods, constant family discord, and double-message communications are examples of ways parents may inflict emotional abuse.

Emotional assault is "suspected" if the child:

- Is very withdrawn, depressed and apathetic.
- "Acts out," is considered "behavior problem."
- Conforms rigidly to instructions (of teacher, other adults).
- Displays other signs of emotional turmoil (repetitive, rythmic movements; inordinate attention to details; no verbal or physical communication with others).

Emotional assaults may result if parents make unreasonable or impossible demands on the child or use the child as their "battle ground" for marital conflicts.

Deprivation

Robert M. Mulford, member of the National Advisory Committee of the Children's Division of the American Humane Association, defines emotional deprivation as "the deprivation suffered by children when their parents do not provide the normal experiences producing feelings of being loved, wanted, secure and worthy."

When parents ignore their children, whether because of drug or alcohol use, their own personal problems, or preoccupation with outside comunity affairs, serious consequences may occur.

For normal development, children need emotional involvement from their parents as much as they need proper nutrition. Infants who do not experience any affection are subject to mortality in spite of the physical needs being met.

Emotional starvation is one of the most difficult types of abuse to detect and is perhaps the most tragic. It is the opinion of many experts that while physical abuse produces more "violent criminals," emotional starvation has been correlated with "delinquent" behavior in adolescents and criminal behavior in adults.

Emotional deprivation is "suspected" if the following are observed:

- Child refuses to eat or eats little, and is very frail.
- Child not thriving in general.
- "Anti-social" behavior (aggression, disruption).
- "Delinquent" behavior (drug abuse, vandalism).
- Excessively seeks-out and "pesters" other adults (teachers, neighbors) for attention and affection.

Emotional deprivation may result if parents show no interest in child's activities or express neither warmth nor anger.

Physical Neglect

Physical neglect is the failure of a parent or caretaker to provide a child with adequate food, shelter, clothing, protection, supervision, and medical and dental care.

Physical neglect is "suspected" if there are unsanitary conditions in home (garbage, animal or human excretion; lack of heating in home; fire hazards; sleeping arrangements cold or dirty or otherwise inadequate; infestation of insects or rodents in home; or if nutritional quality of food is poor.

Also if meals are not prepared (children snack when hungry); spoiled food is in refrigerator or cupboards; child lacks medical or dental care, is dirty, or is always sleepy or hungry.

Clothing that is dirty or inadequate for weather is another clue as is a child under 14 left alone in the home or unsupervised for long periods of time.

Sexual Abuse

Sexual molestation of children within the family is the least talked about type of child abuse. Because of its taboo nature and the difficulty of observation, it is largely unreported, and some researchers feel it may be even more common than physical abuse.

Sexual abuse occurs to infants and children of all ages, but more frequently to girls. In many instances, the mother is aware that sexual activity is taking place.

Parents Anonymous describes the possibility of sexual exploitation if normal loving gestures towards children by their parents "become too lingering and seductive, if they are continued too long into adolescence, or if they have become centered on the sex organs or other erotic areas." Forced, aggressive sexual acts with children do occur also.

Sexual exploitation may be suspected if a child displays urogenital or anal injuries, pain or irritation; presence of semen or venereal disease.

Navy Offers Scholarship For NROTC

The Navy is soliciting applications from college sophomores for a special two-year ROTC college scholarship program. Eligible are U. S. citizen civilians or enlisted personnel.

The program provides full tuition, fees and textbooks, and $100 a month during the last two years of study at any one of 58 colleges and universities having NROTC units.

Upon graduation, the NROTC students are commissioned ensigns in the regular Navy, and are obligated to serve four years active duty.

Selectees for the program attend six weeks of instruction at the Naval Science Institute in Rhode Island during the summer before their junior year. Upon completion, they are appointed midshipmen and enrolled in the NROTC program at one of the colleges.

Applicants must be at least 18 years old and must be under 25 on June 30th in the year they expected to graduate.

They must maintain a "C" average and have completed a minimum of one semester of college physics and integral calculus, or agree to fulfill these requirements during their junior or senior years. They must also meet physical requirements for commissioning as unrestricted line officers.

Friends of Democrats Host Inaugural Party

Friends of Democrats, an expanding social-political organization in San Diego, will host the 1977 Presidential Inaugural Celebration Party tonight at 7 p.m.

The Inaugural Party will be held at The Cuyamaca Club in the Terrace Room of the Executive Hotel, 1055 1st ave. The public is invited.

The party will include a dance, a no-host bar and hors d'oeuvres $5 per person donation will be collected at the door. Tickets will be available at the door.

Friends of Democrats Chairman David Casey, Jr. said the group was organized on a county-wide basis to provide a social atmosphere for San Diegans who want to learn more about and to become active in the Democratic Party in a relaxed, spirited setting.

If You Believe You've Been Cheated

This column features a series of consumer protection advisories prepared as a public service by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of business dealings.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

Products Liability

The field of litigation known as "Products Liability" law is often laborious and costly for the lawyer who represents the plaintiff. It is necessary to learn about the complexities of the product, its design and manufacture, and to utilize expert witnesses to define the problems with the product.

The defendant company presents its own defense and utilizes its experts to prove there was nothing wrong with the product.

These cases often involve extremely serious injuries, such as a workman who loses a limb or part of his body; occupants or spectators who are injured or kill when a motor vehicle goes out of control; or sometimes mass casualties resulting from explosions or "spin-off" accidents in a factory.

The injured party is required to prove that there was negligence or lack of due care on the part of those who designed and manufactured or assembled the product, or that the product had a defect which made it unafe when used as intended.

Sometimes the seller is held responsible as well. After hearing all sides to the case and any expert witnesses who testify, the judge or jury make their decision.

Frequently, decisions in this field and the publicity which results from them have been major influences on the responsible manufacturers of America in changing products to make them more safe, or to remove products from the competitive market altogether.

Thus, it can be seen that litigation often serves to improve the quality of products sold to the consumer today.

An example of how products liability affects the consumer will be explained in the next article dealing with recall of cars by automobile manufacturers.

To obtain a copy of the California Trial Lawyers Association's Consumer Protection pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights under the law, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to CTLA, 1020 12th st., Sacramento 95814. Please specify whether you want it in English or Spanish.

Shirt Display Taken

50 T-shirts used for display purposes at The Place Unlimited, 8710 Jamacha rd., Spring Valley, were stolen while the place was closed, according to Francis G. Pruitt, proprietor.

The shirts were mounted on a wall and had various slogans and art printed on them. Pruitt valued the shirts at $100.

Free Training In Child Care At G'mont College

More applicants are needed for a free ROP (Regional Occupational Program) child-care training program at Grossmont Community College. The course prepares people for working in child care facilities such as preschools, and day care centers.

The program has openings for women and men in classes held on Monday and Wednesday from 2-4 p.m. and on Tuesday and Thursday either from 9-11 a.m. or 1-3 p.m. The course begins on January 31, but enrollment is continuous after that time.

The course, taught at the (ASGC) Associated Students of Grossmont College Child Care facility (8926 Highwood dr.), focuses on learning the skills needed to teach preschool children and to find a job working in child care. Students will learn to help children develop socially, emotionally, intellectually, and physically.

There will be workshops and discussions on curriculum, guidance and discipline for young children! Finally, each student will be expected to complete six hours a week of field work with children. In this way students will have both classroom knowledge and practical experience about children.

People interested should contact Lee Lacy at 461-1742 or call the Adult Career Guidance Center, 440-0351.

Chacon Appoints Thomson To State Dem. Committee

SACRAMENTO — Mrs. Karen Thomson, Lemon Grove, has been appointed by 79th District State Assemblyman Peter Chacon (D-San Diego) as a delegate to the California Democratic State Central Committee.

Chacon announced his appointments last week saying, "It is an honor and a pleasure for me to have such distinguished individuals serving as delegates to the State committee."

Mrs. Thomson is presently the co-chairman of the Citizens for the Incorporation of Lemon Grove.

The appointment is Mrs. Thomson's second term as delegate. Chacon also announced the appointments of the Rev. William F. Johnson, Ms. Lulu Coleman, Ms. Mildred Cone, Paul Chacon, Ms. Jean Porter, and Ms. Freida Apperule to the Committee.

Mrs. Thomson said the State Assemblyman two years ago appointed several delegates from the same area.

"Chacon has done it differently this time," Thomson said. "He tried to get a balance of people in his district."

The Central Committee will meet in Sacramento January 28, 29, and 30.

Now, Officially, It's Starlight Bowl

Now it's Starlight Bowl.

They changed it officially Monday from Balboa Park Bowl.

It's about time. With Starlight in its 32nd season the City of San Diego has agreed to the name change and made the change official by presenting a sign "Starlight Bowl" to officials of the S.D. Civic Light Opera Assn. which presents Starlight Broadway-type musicals.

Monday, George Loveland, supervisor of the S.D. City Community Services presented the sign to Amy Krulak after which the sign was permanently installed.

The light opera group has presented shows in the 4,200-seat open-air amphitheatre for 22 of the 31 years of musicals. The bowl was first called Ford Bowl when it was built in 1935 for the World's Fair.

For several years the Bowl remained idle due to its position in the flight path of landing planes at Lindberg Field. Starlight's creation of a red, yellow, and green-light stop and go system, which stops onstage action during the disturbance caused by low-flying jets, met with immediate audience approval when Starlight returned to Balboa Park in 1974 after a six-year absence. Since then, the popularity of Starlight has continually increased due to a combination of the lovely park setting and high quality productions.

Starlight is entering its 32nd season of continuous operation and will present the following shows next summer: CABARET July 14, 15, 16, 17 & 21, 22, 23, 24; THE DESERT SONG August 4, 5, 6, 7, & 11, 12, 13, 14; and THE KING AND I August 25, 26, 27, 28 & Sept. 1, 2, 3, 4.

The full-length ballet MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM will follow THE KING AND I as a fourth show, presented by the Cal. Ballet Co. in cooperation with Starlight, on September 9 and 10.

Benefits Extended for Uninsured Jobless

The federal Special Unemployment Assistance scheduled to expire at year's end was extended for another 12 months, reminds the state Employment Department.

SUA is the product of the 1974 recession and is designed to provide benefits for jobless workers not covered by an unemployment insurance policy.

Benefits to SUA claimants are identical to those payable under unemployment insurance programs, ranging from a minimum of $30 weekly to a maximum of $104 for up to 39 weeks, if still unemployed and seeking work.

Something New Hits Television: Counseling

A Santa Maria television station is trying something new in crisis counseling programming.

A new television-telephone counseling program for peoples with troubles is being broadcast on KCOY-TV on Sunday nights at 11 p.m.

The program is produced as a public service and ministerial outreach by the Christian Broadcasting Network, a nonprofit, non-denominational public foundtion headquartered in Portsmouth, Virginia. The organization syndicates radio and television programs nationwide.

The new program is called "The 700 Club". During the program, viewers facing problems are urged to call a central "700 Club" number where trained volunteer counselors talk to them.

A spokesman for the network said Christian Broadcasting was "extremely happy" when KCOY-TV expressed an interest in carrying the broadcasts.

"We stand ready to help people with counseling for virtually any problem," he added, "We have counseled with suicide cases, broken families, people facing almost unimaginable physical emotional and spiritual difficulties. Last year, we answered more than one-half million calls for help. And we have seen God work miracles in broken lives."

Radio Equipment Lost in 2 Thefts

Paul C. Revels parked his camper in the driveway of his host's home in the warmth of security but during the night someone jimmied the door of his tow car which was parked on the street and took his Kenwood FM transceiver worth $425.

Meanwhile, over at 7391 Dayton dr., Lemon Grove, a thief slipped the lock of the '72 Ford of S.D. Fire Department fireman Claude J. Bell and removed the Sony AM/FM stereo equipment he valued at $150.

Stereo Equipment Gone

While Robert R. Evans of 125 Demona st., Spring Valley was away on Christmas Day, a thief entered his residence and took his stereo equipment, with its floor speakers and a swag lamp. The thief entered through a bedroom window. The loss was $400, he told sheriff's deputies.

Smog Sets 5-Year Record

Smog levels in 1976 were the highest they have been in the last five years, the Air Pollution Control District has announced. The federal clean air standard was exceeded in the County on 171 days, compared with 133 days during 1975, and the number of hours over the standard, doubled from the previous year. Smog is photochemical oxidant, measured as ozone. Alpine has the highest number of days over the standard, 161, and Downtown and Chula Vista the fewest, 47 and 49 respectively.

William Simmons, Air Pollution Control Officer, said the high levels were due to unusual weather conditions such as record high temperatures, low rainfall and an unusually high number of Santa Ana winds.

Until this year, ozone levels had been gradually declining in the county since their peak in 1968. But in much of 1976, Simmons said, prevailing high pressure systems blocked Pacific storms from moving into the state, causing poor conditions for the dispersal of pollutants.

The effect locally was a period of heavy air pollution, including 4 days (April 30, July 7 and 8, August 28) on which the health advisory (first-stage smog alert) level was reached. The health advisory level is two and a half times the standard; schools must stop children from exercising outside when this level is reached.

Santa Ana conditions during the latter part of the year caused another seven health advisory days: October 8, 9, & 31, and November 1, 2, 7, & 8. All of these were in the north coastal areas, where weak Santa Ana conditions transported pollutants from the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Preliminary data on other pollutants shows little change from previous years. For example San Diego's second worst air pollution problem, particulate matter (dust and other fine particles,), remained the same as 1975 at most monitoring stations.

Number of days oxidants exceeded Federal Standard (.08 per million).

Pro-Life Protesters March on Downtown

Pro-Life advocates of San Diego will march on the downtown area as part of a nationwide protest scheduled Jan. 22.

At issue with the marchers is the 1973 Supreme Court decision legalizing abortion.

The goal of the march is to "publicize the issue of the killing of unborn babies and to call for a Human Life Amendment."

The march will form in front of the Community Concourse on "C" street at 11 a.m. March route will circle the Concourse via 7th st. and "B" st.

After the march a memorial service will be held in the mall.

Featured speakers include Seventh District Assemblyman Jim Ellis; 79th District State Assemblyman Pete Chacon; the Rev. Wm. E. Johnson, S.E. United Presbyterian Church; Pastor Bailey, Assistant pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church; Avril Jesperson, President of the E. Stake, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints; and Father Devine, Assistant pastor of Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church.

Collectors Exhibit Antique Barbed Wire

Over 300 different types of antique barbed wire out of production since 1900 and ranging in value from $20 to $300 per 18 inch length will be featured in a show this weekend January 22-23 at the Colonial Country Club, 25115 Kirby st., Hemet.

Exhibited at the show will be such collector's items as guns, fencing tools, bottles, insulators, date nails, and many of the nearly 450 different types of U. S. patented barbed wire, the oldest dating back to 1867.

The show is sponsored by the California Barbed Wire Collectors Association.

The Association also invites hobbyists and exhibitors. Exhibitors may contact Amos Ulberg, P.O. Box 602, San Jocinto, 92383, or phone 654-7476.

Snail Killer Tested

An inch-long black rove-beetle, nicknamed "the devil's coach horse" might soon become the answer to California gardeners' eternal enemy, the brown garden snail.

The beetle is currently being tested by Riverside scientists as effective control against the snail whose diet includes vegetables, fruits and even dead snails of its own species. Laboratory tests have shown that the beetle eats its own weight in snails every day and has proven more effective so far than traditional baits to which snails become increasingly immune.

S.V.Kiwanians Write To Congress Want Patriotic Week Designated

A national letter writing campaign aimed at getting Congress to pass a resolution setting aside a "National Patriotism Week" has top billing for Spring Valley Kiwanis Club.

As part of a national campaign to get House Resolution 413 and Senate Resolution 78 through Congress, the Kiwanians have been asked to write the Senate, the House, and President Jimmy Carter.

The Cal-Nevada, Hawaii Board of Trustees at a meeting in Palm Springs passed a resolution to have all Kiwanis Club members write letters in support of the resolutions, holding them in one central location until a target date.

The Board of Trustees want to have one million letters supporting the resolution hit Congress and Carter on February 21.

Herbert R. Ketell, Spring Valley Chairman for National Patriotism Week, echoed the Board's decision.

"America needs a lift into more positive and patriotic thinking," said Ketell, "A National Patriotism Week would help."

"There are already many weeks set aside by Congress," he added, "but no patriotism Week."

Grossmont Teacher Receives Arts Grant

David W. Wing, Grossmont College art instructor, was recently notified that he had been awarded a national Endowment for the Arts, Photographer's Fellowship Grant.

Fellowships awarded by the National Endowment for the Arts allow photographers of exceptional talent to study and purchase material. Forty fellowships are awarded each year throughout the United States. Wing received $7,500, the highest amount awarded by the national organization.

Wing, granted personal leave of absence during the Fall semester of 1977, will devote that period to photographing public events, public places and neighborhoods in the San Diego area.

Wing received a previous grant from the National Foundation for the Arts to catalog and prepare an exhibition of photographs taken by Father Eugene Buechel on the Rosebud and Pine Ridge Indian Reservation during the early part of the century. This project has received critical acclaim throughout the United States.

Wins for 18th Time

Mount Miguel High School's 1975-1976 yearbook received the Medalist Award by Columbia University, the highest possible award for a yearbook.

The book, titled "An American Dream Recycled", was commended for strong layout and page design. Mount Miguel has received first place awards for 18 years.

County Gets $90,000 In Gasoline Refunds

San Diego County's share of more than $1.5 million in agricultural gas tax refunds being paid out by the State Department of Food and Agriculture this year is $90,407.86, according to the San Diego County Agricultural Commissioner.

The refund comes from unclaimed gas taxes paid by county residents last year for agricultural purposes, and is made as partial reimbursement by the state of expenses incurred fom the county's agricultural programs.

Some $3 million in gas tax funds and unused emergency funds is available this year. $500,000 of the amount will be used for administration of the program statewide, $1 million will be for emergency detection, eradication, and research of plant and animal pests, and the remainder will be returned to the counties for their programs.

DMV Gives $30 Raises To Bilingual Workers

SACRAMENTO — The California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) has become the first state agency to offer employees $30 raises for being bilingual.

The State Personnel Board voted January 6 to pay the increase to those employees who use their bilingual language skills for ten percent or more of their workday.

The DMV has a total of 651 positions that qualify for the pay increase.

However, DMV multilingual coordinator Arnold Sanchez said only about 300 Motor Vehicle employees have passed the department's language-skills exam.

A survey conducted by the DMV last year disclosed an estimated 412,000 people who seek Department documents are non-English speaking.

"This is yet another step to better serve all he citizens and residents of California by increasing staff efficiency in transacting state business with non-English speaking clients," said DMV Chief Herman Sillas, "We consider this absolutely critical to the state's driver safety program because understanding the driving laws is fundamental to traffic safety."

Sups Name Two to Study Growth-Schools Problems

San Diego County Supervisors Tom Hamilton and Lee Taylor have been named to a subcommittee task force to review a Board policy dealing with adequacy of public school services and facilities in connection with proposals for land development.

Board of Supervisors Chairman Jim Bates made the appointment with the approval of the Board.

Supervisors also requested County Counsel to review the latest opinions and law with respect to the issue of school capacity requirements, Board Policy I-43, and what other jurisdictions such as the City of San Diego, are doing in this regard.

The present Board Policy I-43 took effect in February, 1974 and was established to ensure that required public school services would be available concurrently with the need.

The Board adopted the policy after it was learned that in many cases of development in the unincorporated areas of the County, required public services were not installed by the time the development showed a need and that residents in the newly developed areas had been inadequately served with schools.

As a result of the policy, the Board requires that developers provide evidence satisfactory to the County Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors showing that the required public school services will be provided concurrent with the need. The policy applies to the unincorporated areas of the County in cases involving requests for special use permits or rezoning.

USDA Offers Token Aid To Plagued Lunch Program

Little relief is expected for the deficit-plagued Lemon Grove school lunch program even though the U. S. Department of Agriculture has increased the payments.

Based on the Consumer Price Index of June-November which showed a 2.814 percent increase, the Dept. of Agriculture increased average payments in the National School Lunch Program from 13 to 13.25 cents.

The increase took effect January 1 but according to Dr. Robert Sutton, District Superintendent, it will have little effect on the Lemon Grove District.

The District as of December 31 was operating at an $11,000 deficit.

The Department of Agriculture authorized the states to vary the rate of reimbursement up to a maximum of 19.25 cents for free lunches. Previously the ceiling was set at 19 cents.

The average payment to states for reduced-cost lunches was also increased by the U.S.D.A. by one and a half cents.

So California will receive 50 cents for every reduced-cost lunch served and 60 cents for every free lunch served by the new federal increases.

Locally, the Lemon Grove district will get from the State 78.25 cents for a reduced-cost lunch and 88.25 cents for a free lunch. This is an over-all increase of nearly two cents.

Superintendent Sutton said these increases occur periodically and rarely defray any over-all costs by the district.

The Lemon Grove district serves 681 free and 218 reduced-cost lunches per school day.

Taft-Hartley Attack

Dear Editor:

Are union officials really going to mount a major campaign in the 95th Congress to wipe out Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, authorizing state Right to Work laws, or is this just a National Right to Work Committee trick to draw attention to itself?

Howard Coughlin, president of the Office and Professional Employees International Union, AFL-CIO, has been kind enough to answer this for us. Writes Coughlin in the December issue of his union's newspaper, "White Collar,"

"While President-elect Carter is facing Herculean tasks of combatting unemployment and inflation, and these problems should be given high priority, we cannot allow to much time to pass before tackling the subject of repeal of Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act."

We'll let Coughlin's words speak for themselves.

Taxes Are Forever

DEAR EDITOR:

The issue of INCORPORATION OF LEMON GROVE is with us again and needs to be seriously and honestly considered by every resident. The word TAXES is flailed about by both opponents and proponents, to whatever effect they desire. The fact is that we have taxes and always will, and they will no doubt follow the flow of inflation without and real influence on the part of the taxpayer, short of revolt.

What is really important, and can be effected by the taxpayer, is LOCAL CONTROL of the expenditure of our TAXES.

This is really what we are voting for in approving Incorporation. The return of tax monies to Broadway and Imperial, into the hands of Lemon Grove residents, elected by same, to be spent FOR our community is the bottom line.

We need better POLICE PROTECTION, more RECREATION FACILITIES, locally guided PLANNING, and better ROADS.

Non resident Supervisors with obligations spread over the entire County are spending our tax money elsewhere now. Give RESIDENT COUNCILMEN a chance to spend it here, for us . . .

3 Cheers from Rec.

Dear Editor:

I wanted to take time and thank you and your fine staff for the fantastic cooperation and service to all of us at Spring Valley Park and Recreation. Your attitude and generosity have been a tremendous asset to our programs and activities.

The coverage by your newspaper has been great. You have helped publicize our community events, new and old programs, sports results, and our Park and Recreation Advisory Board movements. The Spring Valley Bulletin is a real service to our fine community.

Again thanks, and I hope I have the pleasure of working with you and your staff for a long time to come.

Willie Williams,
Supervisor, Spring Valley Park & Recreation
